

Funds from the research and study package can be used exclusively for:

- purchase of literature related to a Grantee's discipline. In order to facilitate the reimbursement for the books purchased, please buy several books at once in one bookstore, so that there are several items on the invoice;
- subscription or purchase of scientific journals related to the Grantee's discipline;
- English or Polish language course and purchase of English and Polish language textbooks. The Polish or English language course should last at least 2 months. In the II semester the course has to start no later than in March 2024. Reimbursement for the language course will be made upon delivery of the invoice and a copy of the agreement concluded with a language school;
- purchase of dictionaries for the translation of source materials;
- purchase of a laptop by Kirkland Program Grantees - the Foundation reimburses the cost up to PLN 2,000 (gross); in the case of purchase of more expensive equipment the remaining amount is paid by the Grantee.
- purchase of a laptop by Kirkland Research Grantees - the Foundation reimburses the cost up to PLN 2,450 (gross); in the case of a purchase of more expensive equipment the remaining amount is paid by the Grantee.
- fees for conferences related to the discipline of the Grantee as well as for accommodation during these conferences (the costs of meals will not be reimbursed) - in Poland only. Refunded cost of accommodation may not exceed PLN 180 per night;
- fees for proofreading (or translation) of the diploma dissertation;
- fees for post-graduate studies pursued during the Kirkland Program. The Foundation may pay directly for post-graduate studies if the Grantee supplies the Foundation with information on the studies as well as the data necessary for the transfer which were provided by the university (name of the course, duration of the studies, name of the unit, bank account number of the post-graduate studies, amount of the transfer). After the Foundation has paid for the post-graduate studies the Grantee shall be obliged to send the invoice for the studies within 2 weeks.
